3 MANUFACTURE DATE & STATUTORY WARRANTY

This warranty statement relies on marked date of manufacture as the primary commencement date for the manufacturer's warranty.

This practice allows customers, distributors, service agents and the manufacturer to rely on a simple visible sticker on the product to quickly determine if the product remains under manufacturer's warranty. The intent of this practice is to facilitate repair or replace decisions at the end of the service life of our products.

It is understood that statutory warranty rights are tied to the date of sale to the end customer. It is understood that the date of sale will typically be some weeks or months more recent than the date of manufacture. The statutory warranty period is limited to 12 months, while the manufacturer's warranty is 36 to 60 months.

It is unusual but possible that a unit covered by this warranty statement is stocked for a long duration before sale. The manufacturer recommends that records are kept of purchases and serial numbers in any case. This manufacturer's warranty does not seek to reduce or set aside any statutory warranty rights.

The manufacturer through this warranty statement simply provides a fallback intended to facilitate warranty claims made on typical purchases in the event that purchase records are incomplete.
